DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-4 are being examined on their merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huberman (US 5826244 A) in view of Walker et al (US 6,553,346 B1) (hereinafter Walker).

Huberman discloses (see at least paragraphs 1-79 and claims 1-2) claims 1-4, acquiring customer information from said one or more customers, said customer information including a Preferred Program Term selected from one or more Program Terms associated with said product, automatically grouping said one or more customers into one or more pools in accordance with said selected Preferred Program Term, receiving bids from said one or more merchants to provide said product to said one or more customers in at least one of said pools, comparing said bids from said merchants to select a preferred bid from a preferred merchant, and notifying over said network said merchant of said preferred bid. Huberman does not go into detail concerning pools.

Walker inherently and obviously teaches pools of merchants and customers by definition when discussing the type of item or service being auctioned. If a customer is requesting bids on an airline reservation, it is obvious that a toy seller is not going to be part of that merchant pool bidding on that ticket, and that the customer is self selected at least in a pool of airline ticket buyers. Only a merchant or agent in the airline business will self select themselves into that pool of merchants to respond to that bid request. By definition, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to read Walker's CPO as a preferred program term from one buyer in one group (pool) who is soliciting bids from a plurality of bidders about a specific product or service (type of pool). Walker requires the collection of information about each buyer (customer), especially what they want to buy (Terms and type of pool). Claims 2-4 are rejected as being dependent upon rejected independent claim 1.

Because it would have been common sense and advantageous and would have provided a more comprehensive auction system it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to have added the teachings of Walker to those of Huberman, and to have added those of Huberman to those of Walker for the same reason.

5. Response to Applicant's Arguments

The 112 and 101 rejections have been withdrawn. While claim 1 recites in part a "pool", it does not take any action or steps with that pool. A new primary reference has been cited which, in combination with Walker, teaches the applicant's invention including an auction with bidding by multiple merchants.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
